

Korumburra Secondary College 1954 – 2008 A Chronicle

Errata

Page

21 Rodeny = Rodney
31 photo Hillz = Hills
28 photo Rverly = Everly
54 DLP = the Democrats
86 thorough = through
95 complimented = complemented
98 photo Ricardpo = Ricardo 113 help = held
125 exp3lore = explore s = as

Page

131 add year after each
134 son = soon
140 within as = within a 135 o = for threat = treat 136 as = and 143 affect = effect
add the community after importance of 142 add countless others chipping in with a joke or a funny story. In the classroom, humour has been and will continue to be my greatest ally. Many a tense situation has been diffused with humour and there is no better way to get students engaged than to make classes funny. However wanting to be funny and actually being funny are two separate things...they say teachers should never stop learning, I guess I still have a lot of learning to do!

When I think back to the teachers that made my time at school as great as it was, I remember those who had an undeniable passion for their subject. This passion pervaded every aspect of their teaching. It was impossible not to be influenced by their enthusiasm. I also remember that these teachers had the